Jack showed up with his Boat tail, the Shreves were there with the blue Hup and the burgundy Packard, Bob's Olds made it all the way to the church, and of course I was there with the Dodge, Joe Kuhns wore his Metro to the occasion. Some bad news though, the rumors of Martha having a drinking problem are confirmed.

problem. We finally convinced Martha that it was time to take him home, but he insisted on staying and modeling silly hats.

This model "T" gets my vote for best vehicle at the show

Yep, she spilled her drink, not only once, but twice. It was so pathetic that a total stranger bought her another drink. But you know what , I think it is Vern that has the drinking

Benton/Franklin Parade and picnic

Well another success full "Award winning" parade. Our club won the Presidents award for the third time in a row. I don't know how many people or cars showed up because I didn't go,. I will have to rely on one of my roving reporters to fill me in and to supply me with pictures. Now on to other late breaking news. It seem that there was a gathering of old cars and equally old people in the vicinity of 3600 block of Garfield St. After further investigation it was determined that these old folks were quite harmless and they were having a picnic. The food looked very good so I joined them. It was a tough job , but someone has to do it. While talking to some of these people I discovered that this was a gathering of folks from an antique car club and that they have been doing this for 20 + years. One older gentleman by the name of Jack Yale and his wife

That's Jack and Peggy to the far left

Peggy have been hosting this get together for 20 years and this was his last time. He was presented with a certificate of appreciation and some discussion was had about something else the club could do for them.

As you can see from the number of cars in the drive way that a lot of people were enjoying the food as much as I am. Boy ! A free meal sure brings out a lot of people. They Did you notice the cute little trailer that this car is towing, it looks just like a Mini Morris. .

Vern's Dodge on the right.

I'm not sure who that is above, could it be Dan & Dani Flannagan???

Of course we can't forget Mr. Cadillac, Bob Rupp.

served a drink that could be deemed illegal be cause it taste so good. It took quite a bit of sleuthing but I uncovered the brew master of this great tasting Root Beer. It was none other than the infamous Gail Noga.

Wait a minute this just in..... Roving reporter Fred Fraser is on the scene and is sending some pictures

Audrey's Packard still looks good.

John's Screen side made it to another function

Jack's 31 Chrysler is a welcome sight.

Martha and her Hup

Several of our people went to Fort Walla Walla for an Ice cream social on the 22nd of Aug .Don't know for sure who, but from the picture I can see that Fred Fraser, Bob McClary, Pete Jackson ,and Eldon Reiman were there . If I missed anybody, Sorry

This looks like a shot of the Parlor.

This could be a bed room.
